Narrative:

[On 05-03-2024 at approximately 0323 hours, I (Officer Ros #5040) was working in a full police uniform, with a Police badge. I was operating a marked black and white Simi Valley Police Department patrol vehicle (#23) while equipped with a body worn camera. I was dispatched to possible narcotic activity in progress near 2019 Avenida Vista Del Monte Unit 4.

It should be noted the call notes stated two subjects were inside a blue sedan, inflating balloons from a tank and huffing from them.

Upon my arrival, I located a blue Prius and approached on the passenger side. The vehicle was occupied by two subjects;
later identified as Hailie Tommerdahl.

When I shined my light into the passenger window, the passenger door opened and I identified myself as a Police Officer. Upon the door opening, I immediately observed a large red compressed gas tank near Tommerdahl's knees and various balloons inside the vehicle.

Based upon my training and experience of a large compressed gas tank coupled with balloons, I believed both and Tommerdahl were inhaling nitrous oxide commonly referred to as "huffing."

I asked the pair what was going on. stated he was waiting for a friend to come out of an apartment. When asked what the tank was for and if it was for what I thought, referring to the "huffing", Tommerdahl replied "So to say."

I asked Tommerdahl for her ID and notified her she was detained. I told Tommerdahl to exit the vehicle. Tommerdahl refused and continued to question if she was being detained. I again instructed Tommerdahl she was detained and instructed her to exit the vehicle. Overall, I instructed Tommerdahl to exit the vehicle 4 times. At this time, Tommerdahl was delaying my investigation and in violation of 148(a)1 PC- Resisting, delaying or obstructing a Police Officer

While speaking with Tommerdahl, I observed a knife in her right front pants pocket. Based upon Tommerdahls's refusal of my lawful order to exit the vehicle, confrontational attitude, and her possession of a knife I grabbed her right wrist, in a wrist lock control hold, and pulled her out of the vehicle.

When Tommerdahl finally exited the vehicle, I placed her hands behind her back. Tommerdahl began to tense and flex her arms and began to physically resist. Using my body weight in an attempt to control Tommerdahl against the car, I attempted to place her in handcuffs.

When I removed the handcuffs from my vest, Tommerdahl flailed her left arm out from my grip and began to turn towards Officer Johnson, who was standing to my right. As Tommerdahl began to spin, I, from behind her, quickly placed my arms under Tommerdahl's arms and pulled her away from Officer Johnson and the blue Prius. I walked Tommerdahl to the ground in order to gain better control and take her into custody. Upon review of Officer's Body Worn Camera footage, Tommerdahl's body made contact with the ground knees first.

Once Tommerdahl was on the ground, I placed one hand in handcuffs and Tommerdahl began to grab the cuff with her free hand, further delaying her arrest. With Officer Johnson's assistance, I was finally able to get both of Tommerdahl's hands into handcuffs. I then went to and opened the driver door. I told to exit the vehicle and he was detained in handcuffs without incident

Tommerdahl began to complain of pain and stated "You broke my collar bone." Officer Johnson summoned American Medical Response Paramedics to treat Tommerdahl. Paramedics responded to the scene and transported Tommerdahl to the Simi Valley Adventist Hospital due to her complaint of pain.

Officer Johnson and I remained on scene with . Based upon the presence of narcotic paraphranalia, I conducted a search of the vehicle in an attempt to locate any additional evidence, narcotics or paraphranalia.

I then examined the red compressed gas tank. Upon inspection, I obsevred a nitrous oxide label affixed to the tank. I then took a series of photographs of the nirtous oxide tank and various ballons I located inside the vehicle.

Based upon the various balloons scattered throughout the vehicle and the nitrous oxide tank, I believe both and Tomemrdahl were inhaling or

"huffing" the nitorus oxide, violation of 381(b)PC- Possession of nitrous oxide for inhalation.

While at the hospital, Tommerdahl recieved medical care from Dr. Pollock. Dr. Pollock later informed me that Tommerdahl did not have any life threatening injuries but sustained a non-displaced fracture to her left clavical. Dr.

Pollock ordered Tommerdahl to be treated with a sling and medically cleared her for booking at the jail.

Tommerdahl refused to let officers read her Miranda Rights and refused to provide a statement.

Based upon Tommerdahl delaying my investigation, resisting arrest in a manner that caused injuries to a Police Officer, I believe she violated 69 PC.

Based upon Tommerdahl possessing nitrous oxide for the purpose of inhalation, I believe she violated 381(b)PC.

Tommerdahl was later transported and booked at the Ventura County Main Jail for violating 69 PC and 381(b)PC.

CASE STATUS: Closed by adult arrest.]

Incident Narrative:
[On 5-3-24 at approximately 0343 hours, Officer Ros #5040 and I (Officer T.

Johnson #479 received a radio call regarding possible narcotic activity at 2019 Avenida Vista Del Monte. SVPD Communications advised that the RP observed two subjects sitting in a blue sedan inflating balloons with a tank and "huffing" from the balloons.

As Officer Ros and I arrived in the area, Officer Ros observed a male and female near a blue sedan to the rear of the apartment building and appeared to be leaving the area quickly. It was unknown at that time if the male and female Officer Ros initially observed were involved. As I circled my marked black and white Police vehicle around to locate the male and female who walked away, Officer Ros advised he located a male and female.

As I returned to Officer Ros' location, he was speaking to a female in the right front passenger seat of a blue Toyota Prius (CA-5WHB556). The female was later identified as Hailie Tommerdahl. As Officer Ros was speaking to Hailie, I could hear her arguing with Officer Ros. Officer Ros advised Hailie that she was detained and advised her to exit the vehicle. Hailie was uncooperative and refused to exit the vehicle. Officer Ros then advised that Hailie had a knife in her front pocket. Officer Ros grabbed Hailie by her right arm and assisted her out of the vehicle.

Because Hailie was detained, uncooperative and in possession of a knife, Officer Ros attempted to place Hailie in handcuffs once she was out of the vehicle. Once Hailie was out of the vehicle, she appeared to resist and to try and trun around towards Officer Ros. Officer Ros then pushed Hailie against the passenger side of the vehicle. Due to Hailie's struggling, Officer Ros was unable to place her in handcuffs.

As I attempted to assist Officer Ros with handcuffing Hailie, the right front passenger door closed. The windows on the vehicle were extremely tinted and I was unsure of any other occupants inside. I opened the front passenger door and observed a large compressed gas tank infront of the front right passenger seat where Hailie was siting. I also observed a male sitting in the driver's seat.

Once I opened the front right passenger door, I observed right hand near the center console. Simultaneously, left hand, which was initially visible, began to reach down between the left side of the driver's seat and the driver's door. I perceived actions a threat and diverted my focus to him. I told not to reach for anything and to place his hands on the steering wheel.

As I was focused on , I observed Officer Ros and Hailie go to the ground. I told not to move and I called for additional SVPD Officers as I went to assist Officer Ros taking Hailie into custody.

Once Hailie was in handcuffs, she was complaining of pain to her left shoulder. I carefully sat Hailie up and requested VCFD and AMR to assess and treat Hailie. Hailie was then transported to Simi Valley Hospital by AMR for evaluation and treatment.]

On 05/03/2024 at about 0335, I was the Watch 1 patrol supervisor. I heard Officer T. Johnson request code 3 back at the call for service he was currently on. The call was a report of narcotics activity in a vehicle located at 2019 Avenida Vista Del Monte.

I contacted Officer Ros, who told me the passenger of the vehicle, Hailie Tommerdahl, had resisted arrest and was complaining of left shoulder pain after being taken to the ground, so she was transported to the hospital.

I responded to the hospital to speak with Tommerdahl about what had occurred.

Since she was in custody, Officer Ros attempted to read Tommerdahl's rights to her. She became agitated, so I had Officer Grice attempt to read her rights to her, but she would not answer if she understood and continued to become more agitated.

I introduced myself and told her I was there to hear her side of what happened. She would not speak to me about what had occurred and became very agitated, so I discontinued my attempt to interview her.

Doctor Pollock of the Simi Valley Emergency Room advised us that Tommerdahl had a non-displaced fracture to her left clavicle. She did not have any other apparent injuries or complaints of pain.

Based on officers using force and Tommerdahl suffering an injury, I conducted a Force Investigation. In reviewing the involved officer's body-worn camera footage, I found the officers' reports to be consistent with the footage. Refer to the involved officer's reports for details.

I could not locate any independent witnesses or video of the incident.
